Simple Parliamentary Procedure

Teaching Basic Principles via a Mock Meeting

This activity is designed to refresh or reinforce key aspects of parliamentary procedure using a mock meeting. It has been developed to compliment IP-15, Simple Parliamentary Procedure: Guidelines for Better Business Meetings.

Teaching Resources:

- Mock meeting script
- Mock meeting agenda
- Mock minutes from previous meeting

Pre-Program Preparation:

- Make eight copies of the meeting script, agenda, and minutes to share with the volunteers who will play the designated roles during the meeting.
- If possible, set the room with a table or tables and seating at the front to accommodate the eight volunteers recruited for the mock meeting.
- Take note: The mock meeting activity portrays a County Extension Council meeting. While it is not common for a County Extension Council to include a treasurer and have any bank accounts, the mock meeting includes this role and an example of procedure for sharing a routine financial update.

Leading the Activity

- Inform the group that, to review the basic steps of parliamentary procedure, the next 15-20 minutes will be focused on a mock meeting activity.
- Ask for eight volunteers to play the roles defined in the script. [Option: Recruit the volunteers in advance of the meeting and ask them to come forward to begin.]
- Provide each volunteer with a copy of the script, noting in the blank on the first page the role assigned to each.
• Share with all attendees that there will be four points during the mock meeting where parliamentary procedures are not correctly followed. Challenge those attending to make note when they observe a possible error in procedure.

• Direct the volunteers to the space set-up for presentation of the mock meeting and ask the president to begin the proceedings.

• After the volunteers present the mock meeting, lead a group discussion to identify the four errors:

  o Page 2 in script: No second was needed for the motion made on behalf of the Membership Committee. Motions coming from committees do not require a second.

  o Page 2 in script: The President only asked for the ‘ayes’ (affirmative vote) on the motion from the Membership Committee. Anytime a vote is taken, the presiding officer must ask for the negative/opposition vote, even if it appears the affirmative vote was unanimous.

  o Page 3 in script: The President did not state the outcome of the vote, result, and corresponding action when the motion pertaining to the Expo was approved as amended. In addition to stating, “The ayes have it,” the President should have noted that the motion was approved as amended and shared that the Extension Expo will be September 10th from 4:00-6:30 p.m. at the Extension Office. When any votes are taken, the presiding officer is to state which side won, the result, and the corresponding action.

  o Page 3 in script: When the President called for a vote on the motion to add a representative from the health department to the council, he/she did not restate the motion (i.e., “The question is the motion to add a representative from the local health department as an at-large member of our council.”) Motions should always be restated by the presiding officer just before asking for the vote.

• After the discussion, ensure that each member has a copy of IP-15, Simple Parliamentary Procedure: Guidelines for Better Business Meetings.

Adjourn
President Jordan Jones called the meeting to order at 6:30 p.m. Alex Porter, Vice President, shared the thought for the day. Secretary Bailey Sutton completed the roll call, noting 22 members in attendance.

Secretary Sutton provided copies of the minutes from the December 5th meeting. With no corrections, the minutes were approved.

Secretary Sutton read a letter of thanks from the Stone County 4-H Council for the County Extension Council’s assistance with the fundraiser for the 4-H Country Ham Project.

Treasurer Avery Turner reported that the current council checking account balance is $1,999 and the savings account balance is $14,398.

The Bylaws Committee reported that a full review of the current bylaws has been completed with no recommended amendments at this time.

The Membership Committee moved that a representative of the local health department be added to the council as an at-large member. Coming from committee, no second was required. Logan Davis moved that the motion be tabled to the May 4th meeting. Avery Turner seconded. After brief discussion, President Jones preceded with the vote. The motion to table was approved. The council will consider the proposal to add a representative from the local health department at the May meeting.

There was no unfinished business from the December meeting.

The council discussed setting the date for the next Extension Expo. Blak Smith moved that the consideration of date be referred to the Expo Committee. Alex Porter seconded the motion, and the motion was approved without dissent. The Expo Committee will report at the May meeting.

President Jones led a discussion of the current Stone County Extension District budget. Alex Porter moved that the County Extension Council recommend the Extension District Board increase program support funds for agents from $2,500 per agent to $3,000. Logan Davis seconded the motion. After a brief discussion, President Jones called for a vote. The motion was approved, and President Jones will share the recommendation with Harper Thomas, Extension District Board Chair.

Family and Consumer Sciences Agent Taylor Green provided an update on Extension programming on behalf of the Stone County agent team. Ag and Natural Resources will wrap up a series of six producer meetings in late February, with the final session focused on fruit and vegetable production and presented jointly with the horticulture agent. Horticulture is concluding a series of virtual workshops on home gardening. The 4-H Youth Development program will feature STEM activities in school clubs in March and April and is currently preparing for 4-H camp registration. Family and Consumer Sciences featured programs for March will focus on parenting a second time around, kindergarten readiness, and heart healthy foods. The agent team is working collaboratively with local partners to plan a health fair for early April.

President Jones announced that the next meeting will be held May 4th at 6:30 p.m. at the Stone County Extension Office. Riley Banks, Chair of the Expo Committee announced that the next committee meeting will be April 20th at noon via Zoom. Committee members will receive additional details via email.

With no further business, President Jones declared the meeting adjourned at 7:25 p.m.
